BOARD READINESS FOR THE UPSTOPPABLE EA

KMcNea & Company Inc. ("Company", "we", or "us") own and operate Boarditude and all associate program offerings. Our products are trusted by online digital users to provide safe, informational content. Through our platform, we aim to provide audio, video, downloadable resources and other ancillary material to our online users.

REFUND REQUESTS:

While weighing the decision to engage in the course offering, we recommend your due diligence process include careful consideration of the opportunities and the risks involved before enrolling in any of our programs.

Upon successful completion of payment processing refunds can be requested within the first seven (7) days of access to the course you have signed up for. This provides an opportunity to work through the first few tutorials and execute assignment. Payments are strictly non-refundable after this trial period ends. If, prior to midnight at the end of day seven (7), you feel that you may not get way more value than your investment, show us that you've put in the work and you'll be eligible for a full refund.

Email membersupport@boarditude.com with your request.

Refunds are processed using the same means of payment as in the initial transaction. You will not incur any fees as a result of this reimbursement. Access to the program will be revoked upon completion of the transaction.

Additional costs may be incurred for subsequent courses, micro training, webinars, or special events.
